BRILLIANT MAN DEAD

William E. Russell of Massachusetts Passes Away.

FOUND DEAD IN A FISHING TENT.

He Had Been in the Best of Health When He Retired in the Evening—The Next Morning His Companions Found Him Dead in Bed—His Brief but Successful Career.

QUEBEC, July 17.—Ex-Governor William E. Russell of Massachusetts was found dead yesterday morning in his fishing camp at Adelaide, near Grand Pabos, Quebec. He passed through Montreal in the best of health, and was then on his way to the salmon grounds in Gaspe. The particulars of his death are very meager.

Grand Pabos, the nearest telegraph station to St. Adelaide, is a little fishing place of only 300 inhabitants, and there are very few facilities for gathering explicit information at present. It appears that his companions found that he slept longer than usual, and when they went to wake him up it was found that he was dead. It is supposed that he died of heart disease.

WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

It appears that the people who accompanied ex-Governor Russell were his brother and F. Peabody from Boston. Their camp was near the Little Pabos river, where they had been fishing all day when the ex-governor seemed in the very best of health. The tent in which they slept was divided into two compartments and as the ex-governor slept alone the others never knew that he was dead till late in the morning when they thought it was time to wake him. The coroner has been notified but has not yet arrived.

Ex-Governor Russell's body will leave Little Pabos by the steamer Admiral, which will make a special trip and will bring the body to Dalhousie, N. B. It is intended to leave Dalhousie tonight and arrive in Montreal tomorrow afternoon, thence to Boston, arriving there Sunday morning, provided they can make all connections in time.

The facts concerning the death of Mr. Russell are extremely brief. The deceased was accompanied by his brother and Francis H. Peabody. After the excitement of the Chicago Democratic convention, Mr. Russell decided to seek rest and recreation on the wild and picturesque Gaspe coast. He was attracted there by the famous salmon fishing of the Grand Pabos and it was five miles up they pitched their tent.

Mr. Russell's companions were early astir for the fishing yesterday morning. The ex-governor was called but gave no response, and on approaching his couch his friends were horrified to discover that he was dead. A messenger at once hurried to the village to procure medical assistance, and the sad news was telegraphed to his friends in Boston. Medical aid was, however, of no avail. During the day arrangements were made for his inquest as well as for the removal of the corpse to Boston.

At a late hour last night the coroner's jury returned to St. Adelaide de Pabos from the camp. The doctors and coroners decided that heart disease was the cause of the death. The remains were also conveyed to the village to await the arrival of the steamer Admiral.

Little Pabos, where ex-Governor Russell died, is on the extreme eastern coast of the peninsula of Gaspé, and is somewhat difficult of access. It is rough country and the few inhabitants are largely fishermen. The splendid sea and river fishing in that district attracts quite a number of men of wealth and leisure during the summer months, but there is no hotel accommodations and the fishermen's huts are poorly supplied; visitors invariably carry their necessities with them.

THE NEWS IN BOSTON.

People at First Refused to Believe the Startling Rumor.

BOSTON, July 17.—The first news of ex-Governor Russell's death was received with almost absolute incredulity on the streets of this city. Even members of the law firm with which he was associated refused to look upon the matter seriously when asked if they were able to verify the rumor of the ex-governor's death. It was not until after the press wires had been busy for some time that verification of the sad news was obtained, and there was no further hope that the story was unfounded.

The most that could be learned here until late in the afternoon was contained in the following telegram to Mr. Joseph B. Russell, brother of the ex-governor, signed by Colonel Harry E. Russell:

"Will found dead in bed this morning. Death painless, probably heart disease. Start for Boston at once."

Mr. Russell was in Canada by invitation of Mr. R. F. Dutton of Boston for the purpose of rest.

HIS FAMILY HEARS THE NEWS.

Mr. Russell Had Left Them Apparently in the Best of Health.

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 17.—The family of ex-Governor Russell, including Mrs. Russell and the three children, William Eustis, Jr., Richard Manning and Margaret, who are spending the summer in a quiet cottage overlooking the bay, were in ignorance of the cloud of sadness overhanging them until a telegram from Colonel H. E. Russell was received announcing the death of Mr. Russell. Apparently dazed at first Mrs. Russell, as the significance of the sad news grew upon her, seemed to be bearing up well. Ex-Governor Russell's brother, Joseph B., arrived about an hour later, and was immediately closeted with the widow and children.

Profound grief at the news is expressed on every side here, where the ex-governor was one of the most popular and active of the many summer residents.

Mr. Russell left his family here on Monday for his pleasure trip to Quebec, accompanied by his brother, Colonel H. E. Russell, and Francis Peabody, Jr. At that time he was apparently in perfect physical condition, excepting that he was somewhat fatigued after his active and onerous work at the Chicago convention.

Mrs. Russell, yesterday morning, visited the Essex County club, of which organization the ex-governor was an enthusiastic and much respected member, and when the news arrived she was preparing to take her children to the club where the usual children's entertainment was to be given in the afternoon. When the news of the death was announced at the club, a shadow was thrown over the tennis tournament and the entertainment.

Telegrams from all sections of the country expressing condolences are pouring in.

Mrs. Russell, the mother of the dead statesman, is at Crawford's Notch, in the White Mountains, and Mrs. Russell's mother is at her home in Cambridge.

BIOGRAPHY OF HIS LIFE.

Hon. William E. Russell was born in Cambridge, Mass., in 1857. He was educated in the public schools and in Harvard college, where he graduated in 1877. He then began to study law under his father's direction, and took a course of three years in the Boston university law school. He was admitted to the Suffolk bar in the April term of 1883. Mr. Russell was only 25 years old when elected mayor of his native city, having already served as councilman and alderman. In 1888 he was nominated for governor, but was defeated by Ames. It was in this year that Mr. Russell gave evidence of his gifts as a stump speaker. He worked and talked incessantly, going from one place to another. He was renominated for governor in 1889. This time his competitor was Governor Brackett. Mr. Russell, at the end of a victorious campaign reduced the plurality of his opponent from 29,000 to 6,775. Next year, on his third trial, he was elected by a plurality of 9,000.

Russell was re-elected governor of his state twice. He retired at the end of his third term to resume the practice of law.

Russell's name was mentioned by his admirers in New England as one which would look well at the head of the Democratic national ticket. At the Jefferson celebration in Monticello early this year the governor made a declaration in favor of "honest money." He was associated with Senator Hill and ex-Secretary Whitney in the contest over the platform in the recent Chicago convention and kept his state in line with New York against the majority.

Russell was known as "The Boy Governor." His last appearance in public was when he made his vigorous defense of the gold standard during the memorable debate on the platform of the Chicago convention. He realized that his effort was useless and when he finished and walked down from the stage his eyes filled with tears. In full sight of the convention he brushed them away. His political feelings were so deep that it well nigh broke his heart when he found that the party had forsaken his cherished ideas.

WORK OF A JEALOUS DEMON.

He Stabs His Former Sweetheart and Then Kills Her Suitor.

MITCHELL, Ind., July 17.—A terrible tragedy was enacted in the Tinsley Ridge neighborhood, in the vicinity of Bryantsville. John White had been paying attention to Miss Nettie Atkinson, who did not reciprocate his love, and who persisted in receiving the addresses of other young men, more particularly Thomas Fields. This aroused the anger of White. During the afternoon he met Miss Atkinson, who was riding on horseback, and attacked her with a knife, stabbing her in the breast and neck.

The girl threw herself from the saddle, screaming with terror, and fell unconscious in the roadway, while the neighbors were running to her assistance. Under the impression that he had killed her, White rode away. A warrant was then issued for White's arrest, which Fields and George Rout attempted to serve. They found the would-be murderer in a defiant mood, and instead of surrendering, he used his revolver in firing upon Fields, killing him instantly. White was shot in the neck by Rout, but the wound did not disable him and he escaped.

At last accounts he was still at large, swearing that he would not be taken alive. Great excitement is reported in the community. It is alleged that White is a dangerous man.

The most that could be learned here until late in the afternoon was contained in the following telegram to Mr. Joseph B. Russell, brother of the ex-governor, signed by Colonel Harry E. Russell:

CUBA LOST TO SPAIN

The Island Can Not Be Conquered by the Spanish.

INTERVIEW WITH GEN. JOHNSON.

General Gomez Preparing For a Decisive Blow—He Is Moving His Troops Eastward to Join the Forces of General Maceo—Then the Cry Will Be, On to Havana—Cuban War News.

NEW YORK, July 17.—General Bradley T. Johnson, who has been investigating affairs in Cuba, returned on the steamship Vigilance from Havana. He had not secured acclimatization papers in Havana, and as he had not been absent from Cuba the required five days, he was transferred at quarantine to Hoffman island, with four other passengers.

General Johnson said: "My leaving Havana was entirely voluntary. I received no notice that my presence was undesired, and I left when it suited me."

"Cuba is lost to Spain," he said, regarding the struggle in the West Indian island. "That Spain can never again subdue Cuba can be regarded as conclusive. There is no possibility of the Spaniards, with their present or with any other force, crushing the revolution. The whole island is in arms against them. The ranks of the patriots are daily recruited by the best blood in the island. The leading social clubs in Santiago de Cuba and in Havana have been recently broken open, and the members have gone to the field."

"A large number of students of the University of Havana have left their classes and joined the patriots. This shows the earnestness with which the Cubans regard the struggle. They will never give up, and the indications now clearly point to their ultimate success."

"It is generally understood in Cuba among those who have daily confidential communications from the patriot army that General Maximo Gomez is preparing to strike some great and decisive blow in the near future."

"I don't understand, if this is so, why Gomez allowed his intentions to be disclosed, but certain it is that Gomez is moving from Puerto Principe eastward toward Maceo's troops, and this looks like a projected combination of the two forces."

"Yellow fever is doing destructive work along the Spanish lines in the tropics. It is certain to become epidemic though the doctors are fighting against it. The Spanish losses through this scourge will be frightful. In Havana the disease has as yet made little headway, although a few cases have developed in the slums."

"The war is not likely, in my opinion, to end soon, unless the United States interferes. The Cubans will not abandon the fight until the Spaniards are driven from Cuba, and if necessary the island will be practically destroyed and the Spaniards starved out. Such is the spirit of resistance displayed by the patriots."

General Johnson scouts the idea that either of the Maceos has been killed.

MORE SPANISH LIES.

Delegate Palma Refuses Recent Stories From Havana.

NEW YORK, July 17.—Thomas Estrada Palma, the Cuban delegate, when seen at the Junta headquarters regarding Maceo's reported death, said:

"I have no advices whatever regarding the matter, but I do not believe the news to be true. It is absurd," said Senator Palma with emphasis, "to think for one moment that Maceo, who is beloved by all Cubans, could be murdered by his own people. As to the alleged race war reported to have broken out in the insurgents' ranks, that is all nonsense. The Spaniards have often tried to spread the same report, hoping to injure our cause."

Hidden Arms Discovered.

HAVANA, July 17.—The police have discovered a quantity of arms secreted in a house in San Rafael street which was occupied by Armando del Rio, Domingo Montanez, Francisco Vianchi, a woman and six mulattoes, all from Guanabacoa. These have all been arrested. Besides 40 Remington rifles, 30 carbines and a large number of revolvers, there were found in the house a quantity of cartridges and 26 packages of dynamite.

Maceo Is Not Dead.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., July 17.—Passengers by the steamer Mascotte last night state that the report of Maceo's assassination is without foundation.

FROM A BURNING BUILDING.

Five People Jump and Are Badly If Not Fatally Injured.

CHICAGO, July 17.—The family of Herman Hammersley, a dealer in fancy goods at 1039 North Clark street, had a narrow escape from death by fire last night, and five members of the family were injured by jumping to the ground from the second story window. The injured are:

Mrs. Freda Hammersley, back hurt may die.

Lulu Hammersley, 21 years of age, back hurt, internal injuries, may die.

Florence Hammersley, 17 years of age, bruised by jumping from the roof.

Pearl Hammersley, 9 years of age, bruised by jumping from the roof.

The house occupied by the family was a 2-story structure, the first floor being used as a store, the family living in the upper story. When the fire was discovered the entire first floor was ablaze and all escape by the stairways was cut off. The fire was spreading so rapidly that the family was compelled to jump from the windows in their night clothes.

All made the leap successfully except Mrs. Hammersley and daughter Lula, both of whom struck the ground upon their backs. Oliver, one of the sons, made his escape by climbing upon the roof of an adjoining building, from which he was taken by the firemen.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

Some Appointments Made, Some of Them of Importance.

CLEVELAND, July 17.—The national Republican executive committee has appointed Perry S. Heath of Cincinnati press and literary agent, and appointed a committee, consisting of Hanna, Durbin of Indiana, Dawes of Illinois, Payne of Wisconsin, and Heath, to select offices for the committee in Chicago and New York. This committee will be in charge of the work for the day and provide headquarters for that city first.

Before the adjournment of the executive committee the following were agreed upon as members of the advisory committee: General Russell A. Alger of Michigan; S. W. Allerton of Illinois, H. Clay Evans of Tennessee, Senator Shoup of Idaho, Senator Redfield Professor of Vermont, ex-Governor Merriam of Minnesota, ex-Governor Long of Florida, Thomas Dolan of Pennsylvania and William H. Plunkett of Massachusetts.

After the meeting Mr. Hanna stated that no action had yet been taken relative to the appointment of a ninth member of the executive committee.

It is reported that the committee, while at Canton, will make every possible effort to induce Mr. McKinley to make a trip through the west, or at least deliver some speeches in that section of the country. Some of the western committeemen are strongly in favor of having the campaign opened in Omaha or Lincoln, Neb.

BOND INVESTIGATION.

The Report May Not Wait Until Fall, Says Chairman Harris.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Senator Harris, chairman of the senate committee to investigate recent bond issues, says he has not yet determined whether the committee will wait until fall before going on with its investigations, or will complete the work, frame the report and make it public this summer.

The last meeting adjourned subject to the call of the chairman, and the present purpose is to wait until fall before continuing the inquiry, but Senator Harris says that conditions may arise, incident to the campaign, that would make it desirable to present all the facts and the report to the public at once. In doing this, he added, no political motives would be involved, and the only purpose would be to clear up doubts and unfounded charges, growing out of the excitement arising from a national contest. The chairman says that if public misapprehension should arise on bond questions it would be proper to give the public the amplest information without reference to whom it would benefit or injure.

FOUR HUNDRED PEOPLE KILLED.

Meager Account of the Latest Outrage in Armenia.

LONDON, July 17.—The Chronicle publishes a dispatch from Constantinople which asserts that a massacre has occurred at Egine in the Diarbekir district of Armenia, in which 400 persons were killed and the city was pillaged.

The Turkish authorities are trying to keep the report of the massacre secret according to The Chronicle's correspondent.

He also reports that in the Bitlis district almost every village has been ruined and that a massacre is imminent at Antial, the beginning being deferred until an order is received from the Yildiz Kiosk (the sultan's palace).

Richard Masten, chief engineer of the steamer Bessemer, when the men had been unloading, was on the ferry when it overturned. He thinks there must have been 30 or more men on the trail craft. The boat was floating all night, he says, until the steamer Aragon, a big ore carrier, came down the river. The swell from that vessel caused it to rock and the men became alarmed. Many of them rushed to the side and jumped over before the boat capsized. The wash from the Aragon carried them under the water and several of them were drowned before help could reach them.

"The men struggled frantically," said Masten, "to save themselves, but they seemed powerless. When I saw that the boat was going over I decided to stay with it. That is what saved my life. I let the boat turn over on me, and by putting my head above the water underneath it, I escaped the swell from the steamer and came out all right."

Two boys, Bernard Patton, aged 15, and Martin Corrigan, aged 16, were in the boat, and both saved themselves by swimming to the shore.

TEN MEN DROWNED

Serious and Fatal Accident in Cleveland.

ORE HANDLERS MEET DEATH.

They Attempted to Cross the River in a Flatbottomed Ferryboat, Which Capsized and Threw Them Into the Water. Names of the Identified Dead—Other Ohio State News.

CLEVELAND, July 17.—Ten lives were lost in an accident which occurred about 7:30 o'clock yesterday evening on the old river bed near the ore docks of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railway company. The ore handlers had just quit work for the day and were waiting their turns to cross the branch of the river on the flat bottomed ferryboat which they had provided for their own use. A number of the men had crossed.

When the ferry reached the dock the last time at least 20 men crowded upon it. The boat, which was about 30 feet long and not more than four feet wide, would carry safely not more than a dozen persons. The stream is not wide, however, and the hurrying ore handlers had no thought of danger. The boat was pushed from the shore and was being propelled across the stream. When it was about half way over it began to sink. Then as the men rushed to the side it turned over. All the occupants were thrown into the water.

THE MAYSVILLES WON.

Lexington Defeated Yesterday in a Closely Contested Game—Base Ball News.

The Maysvilles scored a victory yesterday in the closing game at Lexington. It was a close and exciting contest, however, from start to finish. Newton pitched for Maysville and held the Lexingtons down to six or seven hits, striking out eleven men. Lindsay was in the box for the Lexingtons. Score: Maysville 3, Lexington 2.

The first game at Lexington was a pitchers' battle. The Maysvilles didn't have on their batting clothes and got only three hits off of Conover, Leever, Sutherland and Tanner getting one each. Leever was opposed to Conover, and his work would have scored a victory in most any contest, as his opponents got only six hits off of him and he struck out eleven men.

The boys returned home last night, and as the Reds cancelled their date here to-day, there will be no game on the local grounds until next week, when the Lexingtons will be the attraction.

The monthly subscription was due July 15th and collectors will be around to-day.

RARE SURGICAL OPERATION.

A Kidney Removed—The Patient, Weakened by His Long Illness, Survives Only a Few Hours.

A rare surgical operation was performed at Aberdeen Thursday morning, by Dr. B. M. Ricketts, the distinguished Cincinnati surgeon, assisted by Drs. Adamson, Shackleford and Harover of this city, and Drs. Eaton and Heaton, of Aberdeen.

Thomas Middleworth, a young man, aged about twenty, was taken sick two or three months ago. He was suffering from consumption of one of the kidneys, and his condition had been gradually growing more critical.

At a consultation Thursday morning it was realized that the patient could survive but a few days unless the diseased organ were removed, and it was also realized that the chances were decidedly against the patient's surviving an operation of that kind in his then weakened condition. But it was the only hope.

The patient was informed of the situation, and decided to undergo the operation and run the risk of surviving.

The operation was soon performed, and the badly diseased kidney, as large as a man's head almost, was removed.

The patient revived shortly, asked for a drink and stated that he felt better. He soon sank into a slumber, however, and shortly after noon passed away.

Deceased was a son of Mr. W. H. Middleworth. The funeral will occur tomorrow morning at 6 a. m. after which the remains will be taken to Winchester, O., for interment.

MRS. ELIZABETH HAWKINS.

Death of a Noble Christian Woman at Her Home Near Mayslick Wednesday.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hawkins, widow of the late Harbin Hawkins, died at her home near Mayslick, July 15th, in the sixtieth year of her age. Four sons and two daughters survive her.

This good woman, amiable and lovely in character, will be sadly missed, not only by her family and church, but by the community in which all of her life was spent.

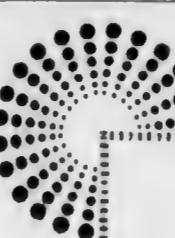

For fifty years she had been a member of the Baptist Church, and in all the relations of life, she bore herself as became the noble Christian woman that she was. And with a firm, unwavering faith she "fell asleep in Jesus." "Earth is poorer, but Heaven is richer, because she is there."

Deceased was a sister of Mr. B. F. Clift of this city. The funeral occurred this morning at 11 o'clock at the Mayslick Baptist Church, with services by Rev. H. H. Hibbs. Interment in the Mayslick Cemetery.

THERE was another clash between Constable Dawson and the Police Court yesterday afternoon. On Wednesday, Mr. Dawson arrested a party on some charge and the trial was set for Thursday afternoon. At the time he summoned Alice Shepherd as a witness. Afterwards Alice was arrested and jailed under a warrant from the Police Court. When Constable Dawson went to the jail after his prisoner yesterday, he told those in charge he wanted the Shepherd woman as a witness. She was turned over to him. Later he was summoned before the Police Court and for contempt of court and was fined $3. He refused to pay, and was sent to jail. He was shortly afterwards released on a writ of habeas corpus sworn out before Judge Hutchins.

Vacations on the Wheel.

A well known cyclist writes: "Every true wheelwoman will spend her vacation this summer in a bicycle tour. There is nothing to equal it. A party of girls may easily go alone, for there is nothing like wheeling to make one independent. Do not bother with any baggage. A wheelwoman does not need anything but her bicycle costume, with a couple of changes of underclothing in a satchel in the baggage carrier fastened to the handle bar. Below this satchel a small camera is to be strapped, for no woman should return from a tour without snap shots of the prettiest bits of country through which she has passed. Nor must her outfit fail to include a repair kit, to save her from involuntary walking. A watch in a leather case, to be strapped to the handle bar, is particularly useful in touring, and it touches the feminine heart by being dainty as well. A chain lock must not be forgotten."

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria. When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria. When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria. When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

Small, Close Fitting, Quaint Bonnets.

Beside the poke which bears the stamp of Parisian approval there is a small, close fitting bonnet, quaint in shape and made of rather coarse straw or else of the faucey braids. These bonnets, though not unlike the Dutch cap in shape, are somewhat larger, and are worn farther on the face. The trimming in some instances takes the form of a wreath and encircles the bonnet. Then the dexterous milliner bonds it so that it seems almost oval. Some times the chief decoration is at one side and stands up very high. Again, the entire front is quite plain, the trimming is at the back, and either flares out in bows at each side, or stands up quite straight just in the center. Rosettes of piece velvet or guaze ribbon are liked on these bonnets, and many good color effects are obtained when a little care is taken, and some thought is given to the contrast between the rosettes and flowers.—Isabel A. Mallon in Ladies' Home Journal.

Dampeners to Oil Enthusiasts.

PORTLAND, Ind., July 17.—The drop of a cent a barrel in Indiana oil this week is causing consternation among the operators, and will probably result in a great falling off in the new production, as the tendency is now to hold back for a better market. In this section but little work is going on, and the Geneva field is the quietest of all. A fine gas well was struck in the north part of the county last night, a heavy flow, which blew everything out of the hole, being found at 87 feet. It was shale gas.

COINAGE OF SILVER DOLLARS.

It Will be Increased to $3,000,000 a Month After August 1.

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Owing to the fact that the amount of silver dollars in the treasury available for the redemption of treasury notes has become reduced to $10,659,582, and will be further reduced by redemption during the current month, the coinage of silver dollars by the mints will be increased from $1,500,000 to $3,000,000 per month from the 1st of August, and will probably be continued at that rate in order that the treasury may have a sufficient stock to redeem treasury notes presented in exchange for silver dollars.

On the 1st of March, 1893, the treasury held 29,390,461 standard silver dollars for the redemption of treasury notes issued under the act of July 14, 1890. Yesterday the number of silver dollars held by the treasury for the redemption of treasury notes is $10,659,582. Since the 1st of March, 1893, the coinage of silver dollars has aggregated $11,983,056. Of this sum, however, $1,311,677 was profit or seigniorage, which leaves $9,671,379 for the redemption of treasury notes. The amount of treasury notes redeemed in silver dollars canceled from Nov. 1, 1893, to July 14, 1896, was $28,402,258.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness, without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, then laxatives or other remedies are not needed.

If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, then one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
